Privacy Notice

Neptunia respects personal integrity and takes a keen interest in protecting personal data and complying with data protection laws. This notice explains what personal data we collect, how we use it, and your rights in relation to personal data. Neptunia Invest AB (publ), corporate registration number 556986-5453, is the data controller for the personal data we collect.

We collect and process personal data that we receive in connection with our professional contacts with you. We may also obtain personal data from publicly available registers, in relation to our investments, corporate governance, nomination or appointment processes, and similar sources.

When you subscribe to our information services, we may ask you to provide personal data such as your name, professional contact details, and company details. We may also collect statistics and general information about website traffic, but this data does not enable the identification of individuals.

We use personal data to conduct our business and maintain our contacts with you and the companies or organizations you represent. We also process personal data for managing our investments, corporate governance, nomination and appointment purposes, and for distributing press releases, financial reports, and invitations to events.

When you register as a user of our subscription services, you give your consent to our processing of your personal data for these purposes. We may also process personal data on the basis of our legitimate interest in maintaining our business contacts with you and complying with our regulatory obligations.

We do not sell personal data to third parties, and we generally process personal data within the EU/EEA. Any transfer of personal data outside of the EU/EEA will be made in compliance with applicable regulations.

We keep and process personal data as long as it is necessary for our professional relationship with you or the companies or organizations you represent, and as required by law or the purpose of the processing. You can unsubscribe from our services at any time, and we will stop using your personal data for these purposes.

You have the right to request access to your personal data, have it corrected or completed, object to or restrict its processing, and request its erasure or transfer in certain circumstances. You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the Swedish Authority for Privacy Protection.

Note that providing personal data involves some risk, and we cannot guarantee complete protection against unauthorized access, use, or disclosure. This notice is subject to regular review, and we may amend it from time to time. If you have any questions or comments or wish to utilize any of your rights, please contact us at info@neptuniainvest.se or Neptunia Invest AB (publ), Box 7034, 103 86 Stockholm, Sweden.
